In 2009, we worked with Carl Construction to build a new 8,000 square feet chiropractic building. Carl Construction is a company of high integrity. The working relationship we experienced with them was above our expectations. They finished the project earlier than the timeline given. They were excellent on communication and extremely pleasant to work with. Carl Construction was very professional in keeping the project within the scope of the contract and budget. We would highly recommend Carl construction.

Sincerely,
